

Anastasia Belosova aka Die Hex

Biography

Born in Ukraine in 1983, ANASTASIA BELOSOVA aka DIE HEX moved to Germany in 1999. Here she quickly discovered "Tor 3" and the "Poison Club" in Düsseldorf, there her love for techno. Within a very short time she had her own DJ equipment. In search of more input, she ended up at the „Vibra School of DJing“ in Cologne.

In the recognized music school she learned the technical craft and musical performance, among other things. with the lecturer Mike S. aka Chris Maico Schmidt. She developed her own style and individual artistic interpretation of electronic music. Unconventional hard groovy techno beats are still preferred by DIE HEX to this day, preferably played on vinyl.

Since 2007 she has been implementing her musical experiences with experimentation in her own music productions and remixes. At that time by her side, producing coach Danny Wendt (Danito), who introduced her to the world of "Ableton Live". Headstrong, like her sound, it was never important to her to release. That explains why there are only two releases of her until 2019.

She goes one step further with her own radio show "HEXENRAVE". Obscure sound in the mix, thunderstorms, broken and psychedelic beats too, mostly hard in your own way. We best call it sound collages. From 2014 to 2016 you can hear it on "674FM" (Cologne) and since 2016 exclusively on the cult station "EVOSONIC RADIO" .

The enthusiasm for music, art, culture and audio-visual design options shape and influence their ways and forms of expression.
